One West - Update March 2020

Business Continuity with Coronavirus (COVID-19) looming might be a big worry for you right now. If you arent one of the 75 schools we work with on Business Continuity currently you might not be aware we can help. You can talk with us without obligation and we can explain how our successful approach to this works - just drop a line to steve_debruin@bathnes.gov.uk.

We also have a free Podcast on Business Continuity and why it is important. For anyone who is unsure, it might be useful. You can listen to it anytime via <https://onewest.co.uk/free-podcasts/>

If you have checked out our website you might have seen our 'Free Resources' page. You can check this out at <https://onewest.co.uk/free-resources/> . It's well worth a look with news, podcasts, latest blogs and any vacancies we are advertising.

We are often asked so we are producing a set of full colour A4 posters to do with Data Protection (GDPR). If you would like us to send them to you when ready let us know via One West@bathnes.gov.uk and we will get them out to you. Best of all - they are free!

Don't forget to find us on Twitter and LinkedIn - you can use the buttons below. We are updating at least once a week with current issues and what's going on with things like Data Protection, Cyber Security and Business Continuity.

Thanks

The One West team.
